- ▶ You may pay late-enrollment penalties.
- ▶ Your health care expenses may not be covered by insurance.
- ▶ Your private insurance options may be limited.

How Do You Enroll in Medicare?

- ▶ If you are receiving Social Security when you turn 65:
 - Medicare Parts A and B are automatic
(can decline if don't want Part B)
 - Coverage starts 1st of month turn 65
 - Parts C and D are not automatic; must choose private insurer and proactively enroll

How Do You Enroll in Medicare?

- ▶ If you are not receiving Social Security when you turn 65:
 - Must sign up through Social Security Administration during a Medicare enrollment period
 - Initial enrollment period:
If you are not covered by a group plan at 65
 - Special enrollment period:

Who Signs up for Part A During the Initial Enrollment Period?

- ▶ (Almost) everyone who turns 65.
 - Check with benefits administrator if still working and covered by a large (≥ 20 employees), group health plan.
 - You may be advised to enroll in Medicare Part A to enhance hospitalization coverage offered by employer plan.
 - However...Do not sign up for Part A if employer plan (≥ 20 employees) is a high deductible health plan paired with a health savings account and you want to keep contributing to the HSA. (HSA contributions must stop upon enrollment in Medicare.)

Who Signs up for Part B During the Initial Enrollment Period?

 - Receiving retiree health benefits
 - Employed by a company whose health plan is less comprehensive than Medicare

 - Must sign up when first eligible or face late enrollment penalty (unless covered by a plan with drug coverage at least as comprehensive as Medicare — called “creditable” coverage).
 - Two options for Part D
 - Standalone prescription drug plan
 - Medicare Advantage plan that includes drug coverage

Special Enrollment Period

- ▶ For people who did not sign up for Parts B and D during their initial enrollment period because they were covered as a worker or spouse of a current worker by a large (≥ 20 employees) group plan.
